Action-Oriented Research and Advocacy Against the Use of Children in the Production, Sale, and Trafficking of Drugs	The project is an assessment of the involvement of children in the production, sale and trafficking of drugs in Indonesia, the Philippines, and Thailand. Limited direct action to prevent and withdraw children from engagement in drug trafficking will be undertaken in Thailand. The project will also seek to enhance the capacity of public and private partners and concerned agencies at all levels (national and local, institutional, organizational, community) to combat the engagement of children in drug trafficking. The project will develop a project proposal for a direct action phase to follow this assessment period. Funded and implemented by International Labor Affairs Bureau.	Human Resources & Labor Standards	$ 166,667
Economic Law, Institutional and Professional Strengthening (ELIPS)	ELIPS seeks to improve economic laws and regulations and strengthen legal institutions and professional associations to foster a legal framework, with a transparent and sound legal and regulatory environment enforced by the commercial court system and regulatory commissions, in order to promote economic growth. The intended results are reduced business uncertainty, lower hidden costs of doing business, increased investment, and a growing economy. The ELIPS strategy is to provide institution-building support to strengthen and assist regulatory commissions, the Ministry of Justice, law schools, and professional associations, and to provide technical assistance in drafting, promoting, passing, understanding and implementing laws, decrees, administrative orders and decisions. Specifically, ELIPS works with the Indonesian	Financial Sector Dev. & Good Governance	285,314

Food Policy Support Activity (FPSA)	The FPSA, based in the National Development Planning Agency (BAPPENAS) and the Ministry of Agriculture, provides short-term policy support, longer-term analysis of policies and outreach programs in regional universities, to create a dynamic food economy. The program supports Government of Indonesia (GOI) stated objectives for moving the agriculture and food economy from a heavily stated-managed system to one more dependent on markets. Early work reinforced decisions at the height of the crises to remove all import monopolies on rice, wheat, soybeans, cloves and garlic while tariff rates were set at relatively low levels. The World Bank's poverty analysis, reported to the Consultative Group on Indonesia (CGI) meetings, November, 2001, showed that poverty in Indonesia decreased during 2000 by 11%; 40% of this decrease due to decreased costs of the typical - food basket - (primarily rice) for low income consumers. The project was instrumental in establishing an Indonesian-led National Rice Policy team, which for the first time, established the need to balance the interests of producers and consumers. Program to Combat Child Labor in the Fishing and Footwear Sectors in Indonesia (Phase II)	The project will withdraw approximately 1,200 children from exploitative labor through a range of interventions including rehabilitation services such as non-formal education, vocational training and counseling; linkages with local medical and community services; and access to income generating opportunities for about 1,000 adult family members. The project also aims to prevent at least 3,500 children from starting work through awareness raising, community mobilization, and the provision of non-formal and vocational education for at risk children. It seeks to enhance the capacity of public and private partners and concerned agencies at all levels (national, local, institutional, organizational, community), to prevent and progressively eliminate child labor, and will facilitate the creation of a community-based child labor monitoring system. Funded and implemented by International Labor Affairs Bureau.	Human Resources & Labor Standards	698,468
Promoting and Realizing Freedom of Association and Collective Bargaining by Building trust and Capacity in Industrial Relations	This project aims to promote industrial relations, conflict resolution, and collective bargaining in Indonesia by: Training employers and trade unions in relevant labor laws, conflict prevention, dispute resolution, and collective bargaining. Strengthening executive and judicial systems responsible for administering national labor law. Strengthening the capacity of relevant government agencies to conciliate, mediate, and arbitrate labor disputes, provide labor inspection services, and register trade unions. Collecting and analyzing data on freedom of association and collective bargaining. Funded and implemented by International Labor Affairs Bureau.	Human Resources & Labor Standards	1,300,000
The Global Trade and Technology Network (GTN)	GTN is an international trade lead matching and technology transfer network that helps small and medium-sized enterprises build trade and business linkages, identify investment opportunities and access new technologies. GTN firms are connected by an Internet-based trade lead matching platform that facilitates trade through on-line matching of technology needs with firms that can provide the product or service requested. GTN builds the capacity of firms to engage in international trade by increasing SME access to commercial information and global markets through an all horizons trade initiative that promotes trade in any GTN country in any sector. GTN also facilitates bilateral trade and technology transfer with the United States. GTN's electronic commerce platform enables firms to establish international trade linkages such as joint ventures, direct sales and purchases, and agent or distributorships. Funded and implemented by USAID/EGAT/BD.	Export Promotion	62,500
